The Saguaro Scottsdale hotel in Old Town has announced plans to reveal a new event space and room renovations this October.

Up to 500 guests can enjoy the new 5,285-square-foot Agave Ballroom and Patio, which features a wraparound patio equipped with fireplaces, fire pits and multiple outdoor dining and entertaining spaces set at the foot of Scottsdale's lush Civic Center Park.

"We can accommodate social functions and corporate meetings of all sizes, from a reception for up to 500 people overlooking Scottsdale's scenic art destination, Civic Center Park, to a conference for 200 that includes separate dining and cocktail spaces, plus an office or boardroom," said Dennis Park, director of sales and marketing at the Saguaro. "Guests will also be able to host intimate dinner celebrations with friends next to the fireplace on our Agave Patio."

Meanwhile, the Saguaro's 194 rooms have been completely re-designed and updated with such unique elements as sound-proof wood doors, RFID (radio frequency identification) and Blue Tooth technology that allows guests to check-in and access their rooms via smartphone; luxurious pillow-top mattresses and ergonomic desks; plus 42-inch flat screen cable TVs; Keurig coffee makers; mini-refrigerators; natural wood vanities; and Lather bath products. The modernized rooms will also display new artwork, including prints from photographer Colleen Durkin. All rooms come with either a private balcony or patio overlooking a pool, garden, or city view.

The Saguaro will be giving a discount to groups booking the new space this fall. The hotel's current ballroom and its breakout space, unaffected by the renovation, is fully open for business this summer.
